

Salsa on Baked Potatoes!

Potatoes come in so many varieties and it seems we eat them in just as many ways. My favorite is baked potatoes with butter, sour cream, and cheese! I have my moments where I like to be a bit healthier and pour salsa onto my spuds, but the salsa always makes my dish soupy and cold. Hot Momma Seasoning to the rescue! I use the salsa and the con queso whenever I feel and it just adds so much flavor! So when I'm being healthy or a tiny smidge naughty I can have my taters tasting oh so good!
